Live Electronics signs with specialist UK connector and cable assembly maker, Inconnect

*Interconnect company majors on fast, trackable production capability;
Offers over-moulding service*

April 2008...Specialist electronics distributor Live Electronics has teamed up with Lincolnshire-based cable assembly and connector manufacturer, Inconnect.

Inconnect has a world-wide client base, exporting its products to Europe, the USA, and the Far East.

The company's manufacturing systems – including an over-moulding facility – are suitable for high and short run orders and full manufacturing traceability is offered throughout production. In addition, Inconnect's connector design capability provides bespoke connector solutions when standard connectors are not suitable.

Both businesses see the new partnership as an effective way in which to benefit from the strengths and abilities, creating a mutually beneficial business strategy. Comments Claire Childs, MD, Live Electronics: "Inconnect uses sophisticated internet-based IT systems to ensure customers can be kept up to date each step of the way through design, approval and the manufacturing processes. InConnect's ability to handle both large and small orders on extremely tight lead times, whilst
